Mental illness, in all its forms, can prove devastating to individuals and the friends and families who love and care for them. NOAH provides mental health care for the children, adolescents and adults throughout our community who need these services regardless of whether they have insurance or money to pay for treatment.

Join NOAH's Friends today and help us support the many patient projects that are therapeutic to people with severe emotional problems that often also suffer from low self-esteem.

NOAH's Friends can't save lives... but with your support we can make them better.
